Vik booters shut-out SPC

Western's soccer club with George Gray and Glenn Hindin scoring two goals apiece, routed Seattle Pacific (SPC) last Saturday, here, 5-0 at Shuksan middle school field.

The victory was Western's third conference win of the season, and moved the Viks into first place ahead of the unbeaten but once tied University of Washington (U of W).

The Vik booters, who virtually controlled the SPC game at will, kept the Falcons on defense throughout the game, and allowed SPC just two shots on goal in the entire game.

One of SPC's attempted shots was by John Dawn on a free-kick in the second half, the shot though was blocked by Vik goalie, Pat Garrett.

Western's other goal was scored by Bob Mills, with an assist by Bruce McLeod on a corner-kick.

In addition to scoring two goals, Hindin assisted Gray on Western's first goal in the opening minutes of the first half.

Gray now has scored four goals in three games to lead the Vik booters in scoring.

Hindin, the defending Western Washington Soccer Conference scoring champ, has scored three goals.

Gary Byron is third in scoring on the soccer club, with two goals.

This Saturday, the Vik booters and the U of W clash here at Shuksan middle school field. The game will start at 1:30 p.m.

Last Fall, the U of W and Western split, the Huskies winning the first game 5-1, but Western bouncing back to win the second game 3-2, that made the U of W and Western co-champs.

Last Tuesday, Western downed the University of Puget Sound, 5-2 in Tacoma. Gray scored two goals, with Hindin, Byron and Clayton Finkboner scoring single goals.

DRILLING the ball is Donn James a Western soccer player. James was one of the few bright spots in Western's 9-2 loss to the University of Washington. Bruins Soccer Choice

"I predict that the final game of the Husky Soccer Classic this Saturday night will be between UCLA and the Huskies," said Les Day, tournament coordinator, when pressed for his views at a recent sports-writer's luncheon.

The soft-spoken fullback of the Olympia "Olys," one of senior soccer's top clubs, gave the assembled sports scribes and TV sports personalities a good presentation for the potentialities of the upcoming college tournament this weekend, in addition to filling them in on the entire soccer picture in the Pacific Northwest.

"We have nationally rated colleges in this tournament that will give the Northwest boot fans a real bargain in the three-day tournament," Day continued. UCLA, San Jose State, Chico State, and California at Berkeley are the college elevens from California, with host Huskies, Western Wash. College, Seattle University, and Seattle Pacific Falcons representing the Northwest Collegiate Soccer Conference.

UCLA is nationally rated No. 5, and No. 1 on the Coast. San Jose State is 16 nationally and 3 on the coast, Chico State is 4 on the Coast and California in 10th place. None of the NCSC colleges are rated, due to the fact they haven't played other rated universities — and a little bird told us that UW coach Mike Ryan didn't send in his initiation fee to get a standing.

The tournament starts tomorrow at 5 p.m. with Western Washington meeting San Jose State. SPC greets UCLA at 6:10. Seattle U. opposes California at 7:20, and UW hosts Chico at 8:30.

Western Washington, winners of the Northwest Conference for the past two seasons, and co-champs in 1969 with the Huskies, will be a strong contender but they haven't entered league competition as yet.

SPC, having tied the sensational St. Louis University varsity 1-1, have been concentrating on getting their scoring combination together in their opening contest with UCLA.

SU Coach Hugh McArdle has several injured players unable to suit up for their opening tussle with California, but should give the Southern booters a game. Jeff Jones is one of the injured regulars, and another name strikes a familiar note — Edo Vanni, son of the former Seattle Rainier manager, and ballplayer.

The Husky Classic features four games each day with the final set for 7:30 Saturday evening. All games will be played at the Husky Stadium. An adult ticket for all 13 games is just $2. Students under 18 and senior citizens $1, or fifty cents per day.

All four Northwest Collegiate Conference Soccer clubs were eliminated as California schools won opening round games in the Husky Soccer Classic at Husky Stadium last night.

Coach Dennis Storer's Uclans showed the classiest form of the first round, winning over a stubborn Seattle Pacific College eleven 2-0. SPC gave up, showing some of the form they exhibited against St. Louis University a week ago. But they were outclassed by the California outfit. Emanuel Wolpe and Cherif Zein scored for UCLA.

San Jose State opened the tournament, witnessed by 1,100 chilled fans, by whipping Western Washington 4-1. The Vikings opened scoring, when Gary Byron's corner shot went in, unaided. Then San Jose took over, Jim Zylker scoring twice, with Tony Suffle and Ken Davis adding singles.

Calif. booters dominate here

By VINCE O'KEEFE

Washington college-soccer teams took a five-hour lesson in ball control from their California counterparts in Husky Stadium last night.

Four Northern schools scored a grand total of one (1) goal—the first one—in first-round games of the Husky Soccer Classic.

San Jose State started things off with a 4-1 victory over Western Washington. Then followed U. C. L. A., 2-0 over Seattle Pacific; University of California, 1-0 over Seattle University; Chico State, 1-0 over University of Washington.

In winners-bracket semifinals tonight, Chico State will play California at 7:20 and San Jose will tackle U. C. L. A. at 8:30. In the consolation semis, it will be Seattle U. vs. Washington at 5, Western Washington vs. Seattle Pacific at 6:10.

CHICO STATE and San Jose emerged as favorites to reach the final, on the basis of smoother ball-handling and team play.

Things looked bright for the home forces when Western's Gary Byron scored the first goal of the night against San Jose. The Spartans came back with goals by Jim Zylker and Tony Suffle for a 2-1 halftime lead.

Zylker, a member of the United States Olympic team, scored again in the second half. Ken Davis got the Spartans' fourth goal.

Fesseha Wolde-Emanuel, the Bruins' All-American half back from Ethiopia, scored at the 22-minute mark after a defensive error by a Falcon. Cherif Zein took a pass from Wold-Emanuel and headed in the second goal at the 28-minute mark. The Falcons battled the Bruins even in the second half, but couldn't put one past Steve Burnside, the U. C. L. A. goalkeeper.

Seattle University's Chieftains played the California Bears even until there were only five minutes of play remaining. Doyle Hollister then put the ball into the net from a mixup of players in front of the goal for the game's only counter.

Steve Banchemo and Edo Vanni played a sterling defensive game for Seattle U. and Von Smith made a flock of fine saves in goal.

WASHINGTON, one of the pretourney favorites, couldn't break through the rugged Chico State defense, led by burly Matt O'Sullivan at center half and Kerry Johnson in goal. Just before halftime Mark Stahl rifled a left-footed shot 20 yards into the far corner of the net.

Several hundred fans stayed for the whole show and witnessed a good brand of soccer, even if their home-state favorites came out on the short end every time.

Falcon Booters Lose

BELLINGHAM (Special) — Seattle Pacific College, forced to guard its own goal most of the afternoon, never got an offensive charge going in a 5-0 loss to Western Washington in Western Washington Collegiate soccer action.

George Gray and Glen Hindin each scored twice for the Vikings, and Bob Mills had the fifth goal, as the Falcon booters stumbled to their fourth straight loss.

Viking Boosters Score Third Win

Western Washington State's Vikings hammered out a 5-0 win over Seattle Pacific for their third straight victory of the season and moved to the top of the Washington Soccer

Conference here Saturday afternoon.

George Gray, leading scorer in the conference, booted home two goals as did Glenn Hindin with Bob Mills completing the scoring.

The win moved Western past the unbeaten but once-tied Washington Huskies and set the stage for their first showdown of the season here next Saturday when they meet at Shuksan at 1:30 p.m.

Seattle Pacific offered little in the way of an attack and play-defensive soccer virtually the entire contest. The Falcons had one penalty shot but failed to convert on that.

Viking Booters Beat SPC

BY PEP PEERY

The Western Washington College Vikings defeated a fighting Seattle Pacific College soccer team 2-0 yesterday to draw within one point of league-leading University of Washington.

The Western Washington Collegiate Conference title scrap will now be between the Vikings and Huskies, as the schedule nears its last two weeks of play. These college booters will meet this Tuesday at Husky Stadium at 7:00.

In yesterday's struggle at Woodland, the young Falcon eleven held off the strong Vikings until the last five minutes of the first half. Then center-forward George Gray pumped two goals into the Falcon nets. Goalie Gary Arnett played his usual outstanding game in the SPC goal.

Seattle U, 2-0

Western's soccer club shut-out Seattle Pacific last Saturday, 2-0 in Seattle.

George Gray scored both the Vik booters' goals.

Yesterday, Western played the University of Washington in a battle for first place in Seattle.

This Saturday, Western hosts the University of Puget Sound at the Shuksan middle school field. The game will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Western topped the Logger booters earlier this Fall, 5-2 in Tacoma.

SU Booters In Crucial

BY PEP PEERY

Eyeing a possible NCAA Invitational bid, Coach Hugh McArdle's Seattle University Chieftain soccer club journeys to Bellingham today to meet league-leading Western Washington College in the final game of the Western Washington Conference.

Sporting a 3-3-1 season record, the Chieftains could pull up to within two points of the second-place Huskies, with a win today. The Vikings of WWC have already cinched the championship to stop the scoring of George Gray, Glen Hinden, and Bob Mills.

Kickoff time for the final WWSC game is 1:30 p.m.

Booters edge Seattle U, 2-1

Glenn Hindin's goal on a free-kick, enabled Western to edge Seattle U., 2-1 last Saturday, here.

Western scored its first goal early in the game on a head shot by George Gray.

The Viks carried their 1-0 lead into the second half, before the Chieftains tied the game at 1-1.

The Chieftains threatened several times thereafter, but goal saving stops by Vik goalie Pat Garrett prevented Seattle U. from taking the lead.

Conference champ Western nipped Seattle University 2-1 in the last Western Washington Soccer Conference game Saturday. The Vikings hold undisputed first place with a 7-1 record.

Vik forward George Gray, league's top scorer, headed in Western's first goal early in the opening period. Seattle evened the score midway in the second half with a breakaway play.

The winning goal was scored by Glen Hindin on a penalty kick, following a foul committed by a Seattle back.

Coach John Miles commended the fine play of goalie Pat Garrett, fullback Donn James and halfback Joe Pederson.

The next match will be against Washington State University at Shuksan School field Jan. 31.

UW, Viking Booters Vie

BY PEP PEERY

The University of Washington Huskies meet the Western Washington College Vikings tonight in what amounts to a soccer title match in the Western Washington Collegiate Conference. Game time is 7 p.m.

John Miles' Vikings are just one scant point behind the U. of W., in the boot race, having lost to the Huskies a week ago. The Vikings chief scorers, George Gray and Glenn Hindin, learned their soccer in B.C., and will have to be guarded carefully by Coach Mike Ryans' defensemen.

Seattle University, with an outside chance at the title, meets the University of Puget Sound Loggers at Woodland, also at 7 p.m. The Chieftains and Huskies are the top contenders for this district's representative to the NCAA regional games in San Francisco, so the race for the top takes on added meaning.

Husky Boot Team Beaten

BY PEP PEERY

Coach John Miles and his Western Washington Vikings gave the University of Washington Huskies a 6-2 "lesson in the finer points" of soccer last night in Husky Stadium.

The Viking win boosted them into first place in the Western Washington Collegiate Soccer Conference, one point over the Huskies.

Bruce McCleod scored a "hat trick" with three fine goals for the Vikings. George Gray picked up two, and Glenn Hindin one for the Bellingham booters. Mike Jones scored the game's most spectacular goal for Washington, from 40 yards out. Bob Smith notched a penalty for the other Husky score.

Jeff Williams scored a frantic goal for Seattle University, as the Chieftains edged by University of Puget Sound 1-0 at Woodland. The goal was scored after 88 minutes of scoreless soccer by the collegians.

Booters take soccer title

Western's soccer team won the Western Washington Soccer conference title last Saturday, here, by defeating the University of Puget Sound, 3-1.

Glenn Hindin led the Viking scoring attack with two goals. George Gray, the leading scorer in the conference with 10 goals, added the third Vik goal.

Last Tuesday, Western avenged an earlier 4-2 defeat by the University of Washington, by trouncing the Husky booters, 6-2 on the Astroturf.

Bruce McCleod led Viking scoring with a "hat trick" three goals. Gray scored two goals and Hindin added one for Western.

This Saturday, the Vik boot team concludes its league season, by hosting Seattle U. at the Shuksan middle school field.

Western topped the Chieftain booters earlier this Fall, 1-0 in Seattle.

Booters whip WSU

Western's soccer club opened the Winter quarter successfully with a 4-1 win over Washington State University Sunday at the Whatcom middle school field.

The defending Western Washington Soccer Conference champions got off to an early lead as Glenn Hindin and George Gray booted in goals, and were never headed.

Gray, only a freshman and the Western Washington Soccer Conference scoring champ, connected for another goal in the second half.

Gary Alanko claimed Western's fourth goal.

Pat Garratt, the Viking goalie, played what was called an outstanding game, blocking several WSU shots. The Cougars' lone goal was scored on deflection as it caromed off Mike Hurley's foot.

Western's next game will be on March 1 against the University of Oregon in Eugene.

College Booters To Vie

BY PEP PEERY

The 1969 Western Washington Soccer Conference is now history, with the powerful Vikings of Western Washington College taking home the championship, and the beautiful Athletic Supply Co. Trophy.

History yes, but forgotten — no. The memory lingers on, amid bruised thighs, skinned shins, and even a few hardened foreheads, from head balls.

Coach John Miles and his Vikings from Western are not quitting the round-ball sport, now entering a league in Bellingham in addition to playing in several post-season cup competitions in Canada. A good many of the Vikings learned their soccer in British Columbia, developing such stars as George Gray, Glen Hindin, Gary Byron and Bob Mills.

University of Washington Coach Mike Ryan is busy lining up players for the Collegiate All-Stars. They are scheduled to meet the Leif Erikson Vikings, local semi-pro champions in the first annual College All-Star-WSFA game. This match will be played on the UW Astroturf Friday evening, Dec. 12th, at 7 p.m. Ryan's UW Soccer Club ended the season with a 5-2-1 record, and was the only boot eleven to defeat the Vikings, 4-2.

The Seattle University Chieftans, with a 3-4-1 mark, had the strongest defensive team in the conference. Only 10 goals were scored against Coach Hugh McArdle's booters, but then they had goalie Bob Wilds in the nets, one of the finest in local semi-pro circles.

The NCAA bid has not been received as yet, according to League Director Joe Kearney, UW Athletic Director. Location of the game will have to await developments. Eligible schools include the UW, SU, and SPC.

Six Viking booters named to soccer all-star team

High-scoring George Gray and five other Vik booters will help comprise the Western Washington Soccer Conference all-star team which will play the semi-pro Leif Erikson Vikings this Friday.

The contest will be played at 7 p.m. on the Astroturf at the University of Washington.

Joining Gray are Glenn Hindin, Manfred Kuerstan, Bob Hansen, Donn James, and Mike Hurley.

Coaching the all-star team is Vik-booter coach John Miles.

Much of the all-star team's success will depend upon the soccer league's top two scorers, Gray and Hindin. Gray led the soccer conference in scoring with 11 goals, while Hindin was second with eight goals.

The Leif Erikson Vikings, the top semi-pro team in the northwest, are the winners of the Pacific Coast Coal Trophy.
